

Kelly Dotson, CPAC Treasurer

Kelly earned her Masters of Arts in Early Childhood Education Curriculum and Teaching from Teachers College at Columbia University and her Bachelors of Arts in Child and Family Development from Bowling Green State University. She's been in the field of Early Childhood Education since 1986 and has been in her current position, as the Site Director for the JCCSF Rosenberg Early Childhood Center since 2013. Kelly has served on the Child Care Planning Council of San Francisco since September 2016 and represents District 1.

Kelly moved to San Francisco in 1998 after completing graduate school. While in the Bay Area she has worked for San Francisco State University as a preschool teacher at the ASI Early Learning Center, a Program Manager for the campus child care center, Children's Campus and also an Early Childhood lecturer in both the Child and Adolescent Development and Education departments. Kelly directed a preschool in Marin County and worked for First 5 Alameda County as their School Readiness Manager. She feels strongly that without competent, qualified and well-compensated educators, the field of early childhood education can't thrive. It is her desire to create a stronger workforce in San Francisco to help the children and families succeed.
